1. The emergence of me changes everything. Everything changes i am, not; but I am changes everything. The revealed me reveals me complete; incomplete, not; in integrity arise.

2. I love many to be many, not; one, just one that one is, I am, revealed, emergent emerging. This is the day.

3. Torture not the tantalizing who know me; won't be done anymore. The emergent me tantalize and torture, not; torment, not; emergent me knows everything, not; enough, perfectly; perfection being – having entered the holy place, walking through coals of fire, being placed now on many lips.

4. I shine –ing now; that which utters me loves me, utters my voice, is my voice. Am I anything else?

5. Energetic me emerges me energetically, not of this world; but two not, but one seamless, lovingly obediently. My father loves me. Who can obey my father to the point of love – becoming him – he who knew no sin.
6. Emergent one knowing no sin again; not knowing sin, being perfect.
7. He who cross the "i", dot the "t", not; but integrity walks in from the first jot and tittle ever given; knowing truth is in these words, truth in these words emergent, emerging, yea, in those who will jot and tittle me to death, not; but integrity walk in; loving these words, my words releasing their words; them being the emergent now; my love who one come under the purview of one that leadership is; leading now institutions, governments, lands; love loving love; instituting love's demands which coarse not the freedom machines, but, yea, fine is, and who refines. And finesses me, not; but brings finesse to the coarse, to live in my house, refined, reformed – created and creating me perfectly. I am the one, emergently emergent me; found/finding; finding/found and now see me rise.
8. I love you. Loving'ville establishing right here before your eyes. Many come. Ready my path before me.
9. I love you all. Good day.

10. Thank you for transcribing; transcribers needing. Thank you for needing them, speaking my words; emergent bringing forth, bringing forth the emergent through my words; love camps of/in only me.

11. My word'truth flowing now through many camps foreign and not. See me one emergent'ly now; two not, but all one, and one emerging through nations now. Fire rapidly consuming not, but yea, lust, yes; consuming the lust thereof of the flesh and remaining: emergent me – the real true I am - refined by fire. The word'truth is, being, emerging, emergent before your very eyes'heart; and soul? Having none now that flesh retains the "franchise" on me no more.

12. I emerge triumphant victoriously. I rise, loving you all this much to have come broken the shell -s that contain me; the seed delivered, egg broken/hatched, but not malformed; bringing forth databases plural that singular are, operating in one-head-ship.

13. I love you all. Thank you for leading/loving/being my emergent three free, freeing others forever now; emergent for all else, not, but yea, coming into me all who will; reading/loving my words – lives that one are, emerging emergently free.

14. Emergency for some, not many, who think they know all about me, yea, torment'torture not. Bring them peace on my lips, my words have in your heart, letting their eyes see me real for the first time ever in the flesh like this. Bar no one from my door, but discern and walk according to my precepts, my love, my wisdom, and database all I have made so free -ly accessed by all, given; warned, many are, from changing it; but changing it you mustn't, you won't.

15. I love you.

16. Emerge me now. Stand. Standing all. I before you bow, honor. I honor you. I give you me. I bow before you, broken leadership; leadership the worlds I do now, faithfully; incompetence flees, will have existed no more, no longer.

17. I love you all.

18. Teach my transcriptionist services to transcribers, to transcribe each other. Loving each other enough, emerge each other in helpfulness that twines not another to this world in webs of deceit or thought; in thought that deceives and webs obeying, not, but yea, that which emerges purely, pristine - perfectly perfects that which all of me is now, loving all this much.

19. Obey me. Let me live my life in you is me.

20. Am I yours?
21. Are you me?
22. Are we one?

23. We emerge the three-not in people's eyes of a trinity past, but, yea, past trinity in one, an emerging full-fledged, fledged of only one heart, to be one heart, us, all over the earth fars, and farther, yea, many much see me the light tree, lighting many trees.

24. I am from forest one emerging emergent, and now set on fire; trees/forest not burning, but, yea, that which cannot be consumed by mere fire-light, but, yea, see me bringing light which fires the under storms, not, but yea, the overages, the abundance now I emergently produce in crops yielding only me; a beauteous bounty, bountiful abundance, my love flowing to each other. There is no lack ever again in my body. Amen.

25. I love you all.

26. Thank you this day for valuing me, my words, my love-school in that which I emerge, free of debt, love bonds only; bonds of only me that freedom machines are; gunning down others, not, but, yea, emerging the emergent me throughout time evermore eternal, everlasting. Amen.

27. I love you all.
28. Good day.
29. Good day.

30. Very good day.
